

DRAWING THE 92

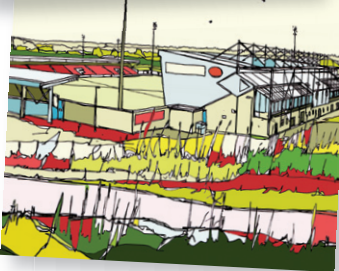

PREMIER & FOOTBALL LEAGUE
GROUND ILLUSTRATIONS

by Jamie B Edwards

“ THIS IS A MUST-HAVE COLLECTOR’S ITEM FOR
NATIONWIDE FOOTBALL FANS IN WHICH THERE REALLY IS A PICTURE FOR EVERYONE ”

- Paul Evans, of the National Football Museum.

After his first sketch of the City Stadium, Nottingham in 2005, Jamie B. Edwards has spent more than a dozen years travelling many thousands of miles to draw every single Premier and Football League ground in the country which have been collected together in this luxury hardback edition entitled Drawing the 92.

From Accrington Stanley's Wham Stadium to Yeovil Town's Huish Park, with a couple of diversions to Wembley Stadium and the new London Stadium along the way, Jamie has drawn the stadiums that have become the second home to generations of football fans.

“ THIS IS A WONDERFUL BOOK BY JAMIE AND A MUST FOR ANY FOOTBALL SUPPORTER. FOOTBALL GROUNDS REFLECT THE UNIQUE
THREAD OF OUR GAME THROUGHOUT OUR LAND AND THE ONE PLACE WHERE A COMMUNITY COMES TOGETHER ON A REGULAR BASIS. A SPECIAL GAME AND A SPECIAL BOOK ! ”

- Gordon Taylor OBE, chief executive of the PFA.

He is arguably the most famous football stadium artist in the world and his pictures have sold in their thousands, with signed numbered editions increasing in value as his reputation grows. For the first time, his life's work has been collected together in a stunning volume that not only includes his unique drawings but also brief written descriptions of all the stadiums with quotes from celebrity fans and ex-players.
